

Volume 1

Issue 1

May 11th 2023

*ISVM is dedicated to the advancement of the science and utility of the viruses
of microbes*

News from ISVM

International Society for Viruses of Microorganisms

The Foundation of our Society

Late last year we had a change of guard in the governance of our International society both at the Executive Board level and Trustees. We heartwarmingly thank those members that supported and helped us along the way to grow the society to its current 1,200+ members. We also welcome our new Executive Board and Trustees who have been focusing on advancing our projects and resources, including the selection of our Scientific Advisory Board. Keep an eye out for more exciting news on our activities! You can also learn more about their role and governance responsibilities here.

The Executive Board meets on the monthly bases to work on:

- New bank account
- Webpage reconstruction
- VOM2023 patronage and future of VOM meetings
- Evergreen2023 support
- Sponsoring
- Membership certificates
- Content for the ISVM website and social media

The Scientific Advisory Board with Matthias Fischer as chair focuses on the scientific activities:

- Co-organization of local ISVM conferences
- Publication of VoM research in special issues
- iVoM online seminar series
- Assistance with the ISVM website and social media content

New Executive Board inaugural meeting in February

Upcoming events

Viruses of Microbes – 2023, the countdown is on!

We are now only 53 days to VoM 2023. The extended deadline for abstract submission closes on May 15th!

ISVM, in collaboration with VoM 2023, is also offering a number of travel grants. Please apply through VoM 2023 organizers.

The conference will be using an online platform accessible through the web browser and as a mobile app making it easy to interact with the sessions and other participants, including live voting for best talks and poster presentations. Head to your app store and download the 'ESCAIDE' app.

There is a number of sponsorship package options available to suit various business needs. Please contact us if you have any questions about the most suitable package for your business. Finally, we are thankful to our Platinum and Gold Sponsors for their ongoing support. Find out more about their activities and services below.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Tbilisi!

